

APPENDIX

A series of Freedom of Information requests (FOIs) were sent to all 39 police forces in England requesting the following:

1. The number of Roads Policing Officers within your police force;
2. The roads policing budget within your police force, as a total, and as a percentage of your total operational budget;
3. The total roads policing budget man hours within your force for the following years (if you do not have a dedicated roads unit please state the man hours for officers covering this function) all covering the (financial) years 2011/12 to 2015/16.

Table 1 below outlines which forced a) replied, and b) were able to supply at least 5 years' worth of data in regard to each item.

FOOTNOTES

- 1 "The numerical data presented in this response is an un-audited snapshot of un-published data sourced from "live" systems and is subject to the interpretation of the original request by the individual extracting the data." (Cambridgeshire Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 2 "The numerical data presented in this response is an un-audited snapshot of un-published data sourced from "live" systems and is subject to the interpretation of the original request by the individual extracting the data." (Cambridgeshire Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 3 "Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive." (Cumbria Constabulary, April 2017, personal communication).
- 4 "Please note that Durham Constabulary's response to your request is unique and should not be used as a comparison with any other Force response you receive." (Durham Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).

- 6 Data contained in these sources for other forces who did respond to FOI requests for this item did not match the figures reported in these FOI responses. As such, these data were not included for this force as it seemed unsuitable to compare to the rest of the FOI reported information. This was done based on the assumption that each force would have made appropriate judgements in response to the specific questions raised in the FOI requests and as such, these data should be prioritised.

- 8 "Every effort is made to ensure that the figures presented are accurate and complete. However, it is important to note that these data have been extracted from a number of data sources used by forces for police purposes. The detail collected to respond specifically to your request is subject to the inaccuracies inherent in any large scale recording system. As a consequence, care should be taken to ensure data collection processes and their inevitable limitations are taken into account when interpreting those data. The figures provided therefore are our best interpretation of relevance of data to your request, but you should be aware that the collation of figures for ad hoc requests may have limitations and this should be taken into account when those data are used. If you decide to write an article / use the enclosed data we would ask you to take into consideration the factors highlighted in this document so as to not mislead members of the public or official bodies, or misrepresent the relevance of the whole or any part of this disclosed material." (West Midlands Police, April 2017, personal communication).
- 9 "Note that while we've tried to include all officers who can be considered roads policing, these figures may not be directly comparable due to the changing nature of the organisation over the period specified. Because roads policing duties have been carried out by different and changing teams in various ways over the last few years these figures won't always incorporate everyone who may have been completing roads policing duties, as the roles could cover different aspects of policing as well as roads based duties. What we have counted here is just those officers whose roles are 'Roads Policing' or 'Motorway'." (Cheshire Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 10 "Please be advised that the reduction in numbers does not necessarily mean that staff, who may have been moved to other roles, don't perform traffic patrol duties as part of those roles." (Derbyshire Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 11 "The following information is an average taken by counting the number of people in the Road Policing Unit at the start and end of each financial year, adding them together and dividing by two." (Durham Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 12 "Please also be aware that Police forces in the United Kingdom are routinely required to provide crime statistics to government bodies and the recording criteria is set nationally. However, the systems used for recording these figures are not generic, nor are the procedures used locally in capturing the crime data. It should be noted that for these reasons this force's response to your questions should not be used for comparison purposes with any other response you may receive." (Lincolnshire Police, April 2017, personal communication).
- 13 "Please note that the table provided related to traffic officers only." (Metropolitan Police Service, May 2017, personal communication).
- 14 "West Yorkshire Police underwent a significant organisational restructure in July 2014. The new operating model provides a flexible, multi-skilled approach to support Force objectives whilst still retaining capabilities in Roads Policing, Public Order and Specialist Search. Dedicated traffic officers are included in the new Safer Roads and Neighbourhood Support Teams (SRANS). In addition to SRANS, West Yorkshire Police also has a dedicated Major Collision Enquiry Team (MCET). The team has both roads policing officers and detectives and are led by a Detective Chief Inspector within the Protective Services Crime Department. MCET work closely with the Collision Investigation Unit (formerly the Accident Investigation Branch)." (West Yorkshire Police, June 2017, personal communication).

- 15 "The following information is the average of hours worked based on the average full time employment over the requested periods." (Durham Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 16 "The figure is based on an average full-time equivalent figure for the financial year (1 April FTE + 31 March FTE ÷ 2) and based on a 40 hour working week, with part time workers pro rata." (Kent Police, March 2017, personal communication).
- 17 "Man hours based on establishment and expected hours worked are as below, but do not contain overtime, sick leave, maternity, training, supporting other policing functions or other factors." (Thames Valley Police, March 2017, personal communication).
- 18 Where both net and gross figures were provided, gross figures were used.
- 19 "We are unable to provide budgeted establishment of officers for this time period as we do not devolve Police Pay. The budget figures below represent only the devolved budget. The same applies with the total operational budget, the figures below represent only devolved budgets. In determining what is considered to be "operational", I have included the following: - Local Policing; Major Crime & Specialist Crime Units; Public Protection; Uniform Operations. The figures are not precise as there will be some elements of "middle office" function included in the figures and this explains the significant reduction in operational budget from 2014/15 to 2015/16 as this is when we had significant reorganisation of Areas to LPU's with a shift of resources to middle office departments such as Criminal Justice and Intelligence." (Cheshire Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 20 Here, roads policing budgets are calculated from the percentage of the total budget, and the total budget figures supplied.
- 21 "This money does not include the ARV budget which would also include a degree of Roads Policing spend. The figures quoted are for the pure Roads Policing budget only." (Devon & Cornwall, March 2017, personal communication).
- 22 "The following is the Road Policing Unit budgeted costs as defined by the HMIC Value for Money Profile and the Police Objective Analysis (POA) Guidance." (Durham Constabulary, March 2017, personal communication).
- 23 Please note, no percentage figures were calculated for this force, as no specified overall budget was provided or directed to.
- 24 "Operational budgets are all those classed in POA as Ops support. The data refers to the Roads Policing Unit and the percentage of the MSOC Budget of which RPU is one part." (Merseyside Police, March 2017, personal communication).
- 25 "The Road policing figures include a contribution to Regional Roads Policing until 2014/15 in addition to Force costs. The budget is the "Budget Requirement" taken from the group statutory accounts for each year. This includes the budget for the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner and the Force. It is unclear from the request how to define "Operational Budget". (South Yorkshire Police, March 2017, personal communication).
- 26 Please note, no percentage figures were calculated for this force, as no specified overall budget was provided or directed to.
- 27 Please note, no percentage figures were calculated for this force, as no specified overall budget was provided or directed to.
